I just put out a request on our NALI list serve for an investigator in the [REDACTED] NY area. I have attached a social media search that I just completed that the investigator can use and expand on.

I have pretty much completed all I can do from Florida.

A more in depth investigation will require a local investigator in the [REDACTED] NY area who may have ties to the local police department and who can go to the clerk's office for a more thorough search.

The NY investigator can then do interviews and an area canvas based on what the investigator can find through the social media search, police reports (which are not public record) but may be obtained through the investigator's contacts. It would also help if the investigator has knowledge of what [REDACTED] is suing for.

Hi, Steve. Please give me the contact information for someone in your network in the New York City area who you believe is really good and can effectively gather detail that would be helpful to defense counsel. Thank you.
