1—i will not be seeing you soon in NYC—Hunter was a debacle—they were going to pay me an Adjunct Professor's salary of $5500—such an organism is typically someone who has just gotten their PhD or is about to—god Almighty i would lose $20,000/4 months to work for them

2—here is a market question for you, i have 750 grand—if i spend 300/day as i roughly do—after years i will be down to 250—can i assume that it will have grown to 500 ?

3—BTW i did have the good sense to buy 4 acres in 2007 off my Crafoord Prize for $70,000—it is now worth $250,000—and doubles in value every 6-7 years—has nothing to do with the stock market—entirely due to external pressures—returning residents who need to buy land—and far more important my land gives view at 1800 feet down to the ocean—indeed my land is part of the original Southfield Plantation

i don't cut trees i plant trees, so my land doubles regardless—problem is i would rather cut off part of an arm than sell any of it !

would love to talk to you later

all best
