Jeffrey please I need your directions, I cannot continue to follow a path like this on my own. I miss your advices, I miss your voice... I miss everything. I don't understand why we cannot talk anymore. This situation really makes me feel sad. It affects my daily life and my actions followed by total nonsense. Paris makes me extremely sensitive because everywhere I walk reminds me of you. This feeling doesn't go away. I don't know how to deal with it and what to do about it. Earning money is practical but doesn't bring me any happiness. I miss spending time with you and doing things for you.
