Hi Jeff,

Here is a copy of the investor deck (it is a bit old, As I mentioned, this opportunity came up quickly).

The important technical slide shows this testing which was done with Verizon:

The ability to connect 'non-line of sight' links, even in Manhattan that are nearly 3km away. It is amazing tech.

On the deal side, I have also included the term sheet. I am very excited for what we can do here, and happy to do something fun with you.

The investment into ST1100 Preferred, LLC is contingent on my closing the 'recapitalization'. As I mentioned we have the votes of the largest shareholder as well as control of the debt, so I am hopeful the recap will go smoothly.

Regarding the people looking to put Bn's to work, if you think they could be serious investors in OneWeb (a UK holdco and a Jersey opco), then I would be happy to go wherever needed to visit them and support this. OneWeb is making great progress.
