

From: soon yi previn <[REDACTED]>

To: jeffrey E. <jeevacation@gmail.com>

Subject: Re:

Date: Fri, 21 Jul 2017 02:16:57 +0000

Thank you for clarifying. Thank you also for dinner. It was fun.

Safe travels,

Soon-Yi iPhone 🍏

On Jul 20, 2017, at 10:13 PM, jeffrey E. <jeevacation@gmail.com> wrote:

He said again, with my mother on the telephone, that he thought I'd had an orgasm," Constand testified.

Cosby said something else on the call that troubled her, Constand said. When she and her mother asked about the pills, the comedian said he would need to look at the "prescription on the bottle," Constand testified, but that he couldn't see the writing on the bottle.

The comment rattled her, she said, because it began to dawn on her that Cosby might have given her something much stronger than an herbal supplement. Constand's testimony about the prescription comment is significant because Cosby has told police investigators that pills he gave Constand were Benadryl, an over-the-counter allergy medicine that doesn't require a prescription.

--

please note

The information contained in this communication is confidential, may be attorney-client privileged, may constitute inside information, and is intended only for the use of the addressee. It is the property of JEE

Unauthorized use, disclosure or copying of this communication or any part thereof is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful. If you have received this communication in error, please notify us immediately by return e-mail or by e-mail to jeevacation@gmail.com, and destroy this communication and all copies thereof, including all attachments. copyright -all rights reserved