Rich - I had a good phone interview with Capt. Dewey Strang. Would you like to call him and give me your thoughts?

And if you get a good vibe would we be able to have him come down for site visit.

Good Morning Michael

I enjoyed speaking with you on Friday about the barge captain position. It sounds like a great job and right in my wheelhouse. I have all of the professional experience needed to perform the tasks that you have described as well as so much more to offer. I am extremely hard working. I am a dedicated husband and father. I like to have fun but I am very serious about my professional life and responsibilities.

My management style is such that I encourage my staff to always reserve using the word "NO" unless it is used for safety reasons. Otherwise, there are always ways to lend a hand or figure out ways to perform the task at hand. I never ask my staff to do anything that I wouldn't be willing to do myself.... however, I do delegate based on an individuals skill level.

I have been on the water all 46 years of my life. My father was a fisherman and definitely passed that trait on to me. There is very little about boating and watercraft that I do not know but beyond my experience needed for the position described I am well versed in other areas such as electrical, electronics, internet security, audio visual, I have a strong passion for cooking and the list goes on. I could be a great asset working on a private island where experience with these things is limited.

I'd love to continue the conversation about this position and hope that you will consider me as a possible candidate for your barge captain manager. Please let me know when we can talk again and if it might be possible to have a face to face and we can see if I'd be a good fit with you guys.

Thanks for your time Michael. Please let me know if i can provide you with any more info regarding my professional experience as a captain. If you wouldn't mind please reply and let me know that you have received this also I don't believe that I ever asked you what the name of this company is. Please let me know as I am actively researching all things St. Thomas.

Kindest Regards,
Dewey
