Hi Jeffrey,

I hope this finds you well and inspired! A short and random note from travels to say hello and send gratitude for your support of my work a while back. I ended up completing a series of death masks for the London Design Museum and the collection will be traveling to MoMA and SFMOMA in the coming years. Here are some photos of the second series of the masks and a few portraits of children holding Lazarus, a mask that is designed to contain the last breath (a sort of biological urn). I would not have been able to complete this project without your support, because so many thought it to be too weird. Thank you, it meant so much to me.

Warm wishes,
Neri
