Jeff,

Esther Schmidt is the interior design person I've spoken about from time to time- she is world-class excellent, and hoping to put together a NYC trip this June, after London (she is based in Delhi). I don't normally plug people but she is simply very good at what she does and works with the top people in this field. Feel free to ping me or pass this on if you know anyone who might be interested. Her topics are below.
