Jeffrey,

I hope you are doing great and have some fun plans this long weekend. I want to follow up on introducing Honeycomb to some potential investors we discussed a few months ago.

Firstly, I'm grateful for your partnership. As my day one investor and co-investment partner no one has more experience investing with Honeycomb and I need your help. Referrals is a very important way to grow our fund since I'd rather be making money for us than hitting the road marketing to the Goldman cap intro list.

Our annualized returns are just under 15% net which I believe is what I told you to expect from me pre-launch. We are working very hard and I want to hire more talent to uncover more oppty and further build upon our success as we approach our second anniversary.

I will go anywhere at anytime to meet someone you say I should meet. Some updated stats - We are approx $580m of assets, 10% my capital, 30% net return since inception, so we really haven't raised much outside capital. I would like to take it to the next level with your help.

Just as an aside and i know it wouldn't change your life but I'm sure you know the fund of funds that come into our 1.5/20 or 2/20 fee class actually charge an additional 50bps fees to investors that I don't see so perhaps there is a business oppty for you as well. I want to grow to $2B by 2020.

Warmly,
David
