He runs the Greek deal (founder and MD of Invel)

Good guy, Greek living in London

Chris Papachristophorou - Managing Partner/Founder

Prior to Invel, Chris was a Managing Director and Global Head of RREEF Opportunistic Investments (ROI), the division of RREEF Real Estate that specialises in high yield real estate investment strategies. Previously, he was the Co-CEO for RREEF Alternatives in Europe, Middle East and Northern Africa and was instrumental in consolidating RREEF's broader alternatives platform in the EMEA region. While at RREEF, Chris completed and / or restructured over 60 investments totalling in excess of $20bn of gross asset value. Amongst others, he led the corporate restructuring, refinancing and repositioning of the French department store Le Printemps; the acquisition, repositioning and subsequent sale of La Rinascente, Italy's leading department store; as well as the acquisition, subsequent restructuring and sale of Newreal S.p.A, then the commercial real estate subsidiary of Enel, Italy's largest power company.
