Jeffrey,

No problem. I arranged to see her today.

My pleasure.

Thank you for taking the time to speak with Caitlin yesterday ! It meant a lot to her and was very helpful. Your questions were very thought-provoking and what you said solidified her leaning to Number Theory. (I can't wait to see the Ramachandran movie myself)

FYI it has been a tough year for Caitlin as a Crohns flare worse in Nov-Dec put her in the hospital and resulted in a temporary brain fog---fortunately now dissipated---that made her work challenging and necessitated her cutting back on activities (eg varsity squash team and some socializing). But she caught up, persevered, did well, has great supportive friends and is back on a good path again for 2017.

I'll be sending you a note today summarizing the points we talked about your own health.

Best regards,

Woody
