The transmittal letter sent to them gives them that reason. We are trying to replace the scope of the unexecuted permit with the submitted drawings. I will call him on Monday.

Jeffrey,

I spoke with Paul Kalloo of CZM yesterday regarding the drawings we submitted for GSJ. They are still reviewing the drawings, and should give us a firm decision next week as to whether we can replace the scope of the unexecuted permit or have to apply for a new permit altogether. J.P. Oriol has been on leave this week and won't return until January 9. I sent the following text message to him:

"Happy New Year J.P.,

I spoke briefly with Paul regarding the Great Saint James documents we submitted. He said he is reviewing them still and a decision will be made shortly by CZM as to whether the scope of those drawings can replace the scope of the unexecuted permit, or if we need to apply for a new permit. Although he wasn't definite, it seems we will need to apply for a new permit. Can you confirm this? I would like to start accumulating the paperwork if needed.

I would like to point out that while we show several residential structures, we have not fully designed them as no schedule has been established for them. We simply want their location and size approved conceptually. If that is not possible at this stage, we will remove them. Our biggest interest now is the scope listed for Phase 1.

John"

I will follow up on Monday to see what his decision is.
