I'm doing great, thank you for asking. Fund is growing in all meanings, portfolio almost doubled in valuation over the last four months while it's obviously early to judge. I really love investing and helping startups and I feel lucky that I'm able to do that.

Found a super interesting scientist — <https://civilizationemerging.com/>. Lots of people speak highly of him and seems like he is real. Like Lukin but in another field.

What is happening on your end?

I'm going to be there on May 21-23 in case you're around and have time :)
