Jeffrey,

I spoke to Rob and we would like to train your guy in NYC.

The florist was a bad choice. While she has great skills, her teaching skills lacked. Please do bear in mind that we are still in the research phase. That's why we need 4 - 5 month to write curriculums, wetting the instructors and get everything ready for a first rate school. When the first students arrive, they will have the best possible team.

Time is of the essence right now. How soon can we get access to your NYC guy? We'd like to have him train with a Butler as well as Rob and myself over a 2 week period.

Then, when the school is up and running we can get him in for the full program.

Thanks for still giving us a chance. It's highly appreciated

John
