It has in on ly the first two paragraphs, three numbers from three separate dates -weeks and months apart and then they add them together. ? june 30 financials. is 1 date it says stock price of 18, different date and then put s in 19.20 per share.for a third date . THEREFORE all sums inaccurate. mix specific today numbers with rounded future projections. . all it would take is to put in today's numbers consistently as it should always be done. it should be a snapshot . not a conglomeration. and easily done with the correct IT program.
