There is no reality that is outside of an experience or an interpretation of a real or imagined experience -including gravity

All experience is in consciousness alone - including mathematical imagination

Heat in normal individuals without a precipitating etiology does not cause this. In two weeks when there are no agglutins Try heat. The stream is from Claritin most likely

Yes sir !

Thanks for your encouragement and support

There is a lot of politics in science

Will share somethings confidentially by email soon

In the end all is as it should be and I surrender to what is

Just finished my yoga class

I prefer the company of beautiful people and scarce friendship any day to that of scientists

Session - he he !

Not what you might think - yet

Agree re great scientists like Einstein Bohr Schroedinger Dirac Pauli Planck Heisenberg but not today's Nobel laureates and celebrity scientists who are technicians and full of hubris

Do watch the video I sent if you have time ability or desire . My fans on Twitter have sent it to Hawking Krauss Dawkins Harris Shermer Mlodinow Cox etc and it's getting huge social media exposure - mostly positive - some negative .

I'm having lunch today with Barnaby and Mlodinow who has been chastised by Dawkins and Hawking for hanging out with DEEPAK a charlatan

Mlodinow Shermer and I have made peace however to demonstrate that quantum psychology exists . and first acknowledging that quantum merely means small chunks instead of continuous stream. ask why the world does not disappear each time we blink. we don't see the darkness when the eye closes. we see the world as continuous though looking at a video of our selves we can see how many times a minute our eyes close and open.

to demonstrate that quantum psychology exists . and first acknowledging that quantum merely means small chunks instead of continuous stream. ask why the world does not disappear each time we blink. we don't see the darkness when the eye closes. we see the world as continuous though looking at a video of our selves we can see how many times a minute our eyes close and open.

The world is a discontinuity
It appears as a continuity because of the speed of space time events in consciousness

A movie is a series of still frames that appears continuous if you move them at 28 frames a second

Every moment of perception is a snapshot that creates the experience of observer and observed in non dual awareness
