Important Statement

This income execution directs the withholding of up to 10 percent of the judgment debtor's gross income. In certain cases, however, state or federal law does not permit the withholding of that much of the judgment debtor's gross income. The judgment debtor is referred to New York Civil Practice Law and Rules § 5231 and 15 United States Code § 1671 et seq.

I. Limitations on the amount that can be withheld

A. An income execution for installments from a judgment debtor's gross income cannot exceed ten percent (10%) of the judgment debtor's gross income.

B. If a judgment debtor's weekly disposable earnings are less than thirty (30) times the current federal and New York State minimum wage ($7.25* per hour, or $217.50*) no deduction can be made from the judgment debtor's earnings under this income execution.

C. A judgment debtor's weekly disposable earnings cannot be reduced below the amount arrived at by multiplying thirty (30) times the current federal and New York State minimum wage ($7.25* per hour, or $217.50*) under this income execution.

D. If deductions are being made from a judgment debtor's earnings under any orders for alimony, support or maintenance for family members or former spouses, and those deductions equal or exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the judgment debtor's disposable earnings, no deduction can be made from the judgment debtor's earnings under this income execution.

E. If deductions are being made from a judgment debtor's earnings under any orders for alimony, support or maintenance for family members or former spouses, and those deductions are less than twenty-five percent (25%) of the judgment debtor's disposable earnings, deductions may be made from the judgment debtor's earnings under this income execution. However, the amount arrived at by adding the deductions from earnings made under this execution to the deductions made from earnings under any orders for alimony, support or maintenance for family members or former spouses cannot exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the judgment debtor's disposable earnings.

NOTE: Nothing in this notice limits the proportion or amount which may be deducted under any order for alimony, support or maintenance for family members or former spouses.

II. Explanation of limitations

Definitions

Disposable Earnings — Disposable earnings are that part of an individual's earnings left after deducting those amounts that are required by law to be withheld (for example, taxes, social security and unemployment insurance, but not deductions for union dues, insurance plans, etc.).

Gross Income — Gross income is salary, wages or other income, including any and all overtime earnings, commissions, and income from trusts, before any deductions are made from such income.

Illustrations regarding earnings:

Table with 2 columns: 'If disposable earnings is:' and 'Amount to pay or deduct from earnings under this income-execution is:'. It lists three scenarios (a, b, c) based on the number of times the federal and New York State minimum wage is exceeded.

III. Notice: You may be able to challenge this income execution through the procedures provided in CPLR § 5231(i) and CPLR § 5240.

If you think that the amount of your income being deducted under this income execution exceeds the amount permitted by state or federal law, you should act promptly because the money will be applied to the judgment. If you claim that the amount of your income being deducted under this income execution exceeds the amount permitted by state or federal law, you should contact your employer or other person paying your income. Further, YOU MAY CONSULT AN ATTORNEY, INCLUDING LEGAL AID IF YOU QUALIFY. New York State law provides two procedures through which an income execution can be challenged.

CPLR § 5231 (i) Modification. At any time, the judgment debtor may make a motion to a court for an order modifying an income execution.

CPLR § 5240 Modification or protective order: supervision of enforcement. At any time, the judgment debtor may make a motion to a court for an order denying, limiting, conditioning, regulating, extending or modifying the use of any post-judgment enforcement procedure, including the use of income executions.

*Based upon $7.25 federal and New York State minimum wage effective July 24, 2009. Recalculate and insert correct figures when the minimum wage changes. Note: Italicized language added by publisher in accordance with revisions to CPLR § 5231 (b) effective 1/1/09.

NOTICE: (CPLR § 5230 property execution notice may be technically required by CPLR § 5231(a).)

Pursuant to CPLR § 5205(1), $2,500 of an account containing direct deposit or electronic payments reasonably identifiable as statutorily exempt payments, as defined in CPLR § 5205(1)(2), is exempt from execution and the garnishee cannot levy upon or restrain $2,500 in such an account.

Pursuant to CPLR § 5222(j), an execution shall not apply to an amount equal to or less than 90% of the greater of 240 times the federal minimum hourly wage prescribed in the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 or 240 times the state minimum hourly wage prescribed in Labor Law § 652 as in effect at the time the earnings are payable, except such part as a court determines to be unnecessary for the reasonable requirements of the judgment debtor and his or her dependents.
