Dear Mr Epstein,

I am writing to thank you for all of your very generous support to the Media Lab. As scholars, we build on the contributions of those who came before us, and the generosity of our alumni and friends extends this tradition. Your support provides vital resources to the department as we seek new avenues for innovation and excellence.

I thank you again for your support as we continue to advance our mission of educating the next generation of leaders.

With many thanks for your support for our efforts.

Sincerely,
