we can do that. but that will not match the english of the personal letter. i intentionally wrote it with some grammatical mistakes but it is still a good letter. we should make a note in the letter stating that it was drafted by someone else. the edited version is attached.

if she had an interpreter, we need to tell the government who it was. any ideas on your side? i don't speak russian. perhaps karyna? if so, she will need to complete the part 6 of the form.

attached is the updated form and the letter.

send it to my address below, so i can sign and file directly.

thanks!

arda

where should julia send the fed ex, please use your own check, i will reimburse, and I thought that you might consider having her check the box that she doesn't fully understand english so that we have a defense later on.
