Dear Larry:

Please see below the answers to your questions together with the attached cockpit photo:

Can a BBJ display Jepp charts on their tubes?

Our BBJ is equipped with 2 NavAero EFB Class 2 (Electronic Flight Bag), which display's all Jeppesen charts and has also the OPT (Operation Performance Tool) installed for pilot usage. No BBJ or B737 can display any Jepp charts or OPT on the cockpit display units, they must be equipped with an EFB or an approved usage of iPad's. Kindly find attached a picture of our current BBJ cockpit.

Does all BBJ's have autoland? Does the one your selling have auto land?

Yes, all BBJ's (and also our BBJ) are equipped for Cat 3 autoland. They have an HUD (head up display unit) installed on captains side (refer as well to the attached picture) and can be used by the pilots as long they have an approved training.
