Eric,

Maybe it would be best if we brought the plane to gulfstream where we can have them fix outstanding items and International Jet can pay for all repairs.

Good afternoon Jeffrey,

We have worked diligently and very responsively with regard to squawks that have been related to the work scope as defined in our agreement as well as many of those that have absolutely nothing to do with our agreement.

Your e-mail below is not entirely accurate and paints a false and completely biased picture to those not intimately involved.

I am very much aware of who Darren and Richard are and their role under your employment. If the purpose of including them in this e-mail is to intimidate or apply pressure on me, you should recognize that this is not required and offensive to me.

If it is for a different agenda, then I would appreciate you clearly identify such now so that I know if my continued time and resources are utilized in a positive manner.

Jeffrey, I have worked tirelessly to try to make you happy and remain steadfast in my conviction to do so. I have made myself available to you seemingly around the clock 7 days a week. I am extremely responsive and have provided you with more attention than any other client I have ever dealt with in 27 years of business - regardless of project size, client wealth or celebrity.

I do not agree with all of your accusations and for those items that clearly require our attention, we have been 100% responsive - regardless of my work load and other in-house projects.

You are my client and I am doing everything that I reasonably can to satisfy you.

Sincerely,

Eric

ERIC. , it has now been weeks since we have discovered, the apple tv did not work, the stereo buzzed and did not connect and when it did sounded terrible, you asked twice that I fly to Islip and leave the plane I have had to charter planes. read wiring diagrams, speak to your engineers. controls still do not work, lights have been blinking since your bad batch of bulbs. gaspers damaged by your plating, still hiss, second cheap screen busted, shades damaged. stereo wiring incorrect. and still no plan projected and or schedule. .
