hi jeffrey,

i just took other pictures of the relax room..i hope they are better.
the samples i did are 8 inches wide lines, and one has the distance between them twice as larger(16 inches) and one twice as smaller(4 inches).

maybe we should just do the distance between lines same size as the lines(8 inches).

yesterday i started the sample on the mechanical building. i will take pictures of that at the end of the day..i'm still working on that

thank you,
ion

hi jeffrey,

so i did the samples for the relax room..

sample no1 (the first three picture in the attachments): 8 inches wide for lines and the distance between them 16 inches( the dull square in the between burnished lines is 16x16 inches..same size as the tiles on the floor) sample no2 (the last four picture in the attachments): 8 inches wide for lines and the distance between them 4 inches (the dull square is 4x4 inches)

so what sample should we do?

thank you,
ion

ps. today i will start a sample on the mechanical building too.
