Jeffrey -

Will be back with complete thoughts on all of the below, but given nice pullback today, some highlights (potentially timely entry points) are popping up, for one:

Consider buying some of the Citi K fixed to floats today.

They went ex-div today (50c) and are trading ~$25.25 (down 45c). As you know, they're fixed at 6.875% and float in '23 at 3moL +413bps. One quarterly coupon and you've recouped the moderate premium to par
