Hello Jeffrey.

I was trying to contact you for a long time, it was really hard time to me, but I even dont remember when something was right in my life. But , as they say, if nothing goes right, go left, so I started to admit things as they are and just dont overthink and kill myself.

I really need to see you, and I was really shy to write you and ask for something, but I really need your help. I want to meet you in September and I want to get to a new start, I am fed enough with my family, country and traditions, feelings, consideration and stuff. That all together pushed me in a small circle and was torturing me every day, killing my self-appreciation and willness to anything.

I want to be true to you, I dealt with as much problemes as I could, gained some weight, I was 38 kg ! a month ago, stabilized my sense. But I can not move forward because of money. I was trying to work, even when my visa doesnt allow me to, but here, in Malaysia its impossible. I cant make easy money and turn to a wrong way, I was trying to live in those obstacles, which I was going through.

But now, Im in a trap, I made my best to push myself to this line, when I can be as free as a bird and breath some life in myself, or I will miss it and die inside. I cant take it anymore.

Its very hard for me to ask you money, but I would really thankfull if you could help it out, I could do anything that I can for you.

All I need is just my teeth repair and flight to Paris, to you. I really need it, and my dream is to make these teeth untill September and work put for looking better and meet you before my new life starts, Its a long way talk, I want to tell it to you personally, when we meet.

The problem is since I moved to Malaysia, you remember I was living hard in Uzbekistan, and they started eat me and my parents with rumors, as I was a "wrong" girl, they provocated them to arrange a marriage for me, untill its "too late" so I was working as a donkey for one year and won a competition to move and study here in Malaysia, I gathered my money secretly and just run away, because Malaysia is the only place except post Soviet Union countries which dont need visa. So I payed for the half of my studies and moved on with my scholarship, but my parents dont accept me and was really angry and its been 6 month we dont talk.

I was trying to compromise, but no result, I was feeling pain for it , but now I decided to stop. If we have no point of mutual agreements and understanding, I dont need it in my life.

So , since I moved from Uzbekistan, I could not work on my braces, here its too expensive and I had some time to wear them without changing in advance, now, some of them fell out, my teeth are intensively moving in a wrong way and they start to shake because of the wrong spread pressure, I guess Im about to loose all my teeth so far if I wont do anything to them.

I made a consultation with a dentist, and he said the whole work whicj should be done

- to glue 3 new braces bricks back,
- to change the centre of the teeth, because they dont match
- I put a finger in a photo to show you a hole there, so they told I should take off one tooth and move everything right and then to put implants on those places also they need to put implants on the end of jaw, because there are 14 teeth up and only 12 down, so they will spoil in future, wrong pressure.

- to wear a bandage for a week
- to clean and take off
- to put invisaligns for a half of a year, as shown on a picture.

So they calculated everything with invisaligns, brace arches, implants and service (rip out 1 teeth, cleaning, bricks changing, bandage) and gave me the approximate price 3750 USD. Thats enormous and I dont have that money, so Im walking with these teeth and spoiling them more and more day by day .

and I would really like to come to France, and I should go to Uzbekistan for 3 weeks and then come back to Malaysia, to change my 21 year stamp in passport. so all my last money went to the ticket back home. I can easily come and I really want to go to Paris in September, right after my birthday, but I think its much easily to apply for french visa here, because its not strict and Im a student here. on a holidays. All I need is just to submit my documents, open a visa card and buy a small tour. So they can easily give me visa. But I have only a couple of days left for it, I already asked and ready to collect all the documents for apply, but the tourist company (the cheapest one) needs 2800 euro for 13 days (3463 USD) for it. which I also dont have.

Jeffrey, Im really sorry for asking you, but Im dying of this, please save my tiny ass make me a greatest present ever and let me see you and come to you with a good smile. I already made a long way, which was not easy for me, I dont want to stop because of this problems, I kust need your support at this exact time, because you are the only one for me.

I really missed you,

xox
