J.P. Morgan invites you to participate in a prospective investor conference call for

KKR Asian II, L.P.

Established in 1976, Kohlberg Kravis Roberts & Co. ("KKR" or the "Firm") has built a reputation for pioneering the leverage buyout industry and remains today one of the world's largest and most successful investment management firms. The Firm has a demonstrated history of success, having invested $54 billion of equity across 16 prior private equity funds, which together have generated a 26% gross and 19% net annualized return for investors¹. KKR has a deep and accomplished team with over 250 investment, advisory and business operations professionals in offices around the world.

Looking across today's investment landscape, KKR believes that Asia contains favorable macroeconomic dynamics, and is becoming an attractive region for private equity investing. Yet while Asia is rapidly becoming an important private equity market, the amount of private equity investment to date relative to GDP remains small compared to that of the United States and Europe.

Since 2005, KKR has committed $5 billion across 28 Asian transactions, delivering a 17% net composite IRR which outperforms the MSCI Asia Pacific Index by 15%². KKR's second Asian-focused fund, KKR Asian II, L.P. will continue the Firm's pan-Asian investment strategy, which seeks to take advantage of the market opportunity by investing in large, industry-leading businesses in Asia.
