[REDACTED] would like you to consider the below couple...she says their Past employer couldn't stop raving about them...the only reason the past employer does not need them anymore is because they are old and down sizing their lives...selling homes, boats, etc ...they don't need the help anymore...Please advise if you would like to set up a Skype interview...

To Whom it may concern,

Gavins and Craig Marshall were in our employ for nine years from 2008 to November 2019.

They were responsible for the management and daily domestic tasks of an estate comprising three family residences. They handled household duties, child care and entertaining.

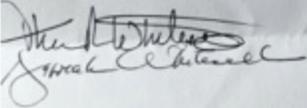

Craig was also involved in the grounds management and landscaping supervision.

We have had a good relationship with them and value the years they have lived with us on a farm. They are trustworthy and make a fine team.

Any further questions, please do not hesitate to call.

Sincerely,

Thomas and Deborah Whitesell
