Hi Rich, This was the 2nd candidate that I was initially thinking, I have a call into him, The other guy scratch,, as he is going to be too junior, and yes his salary is way too junior for consideration, I have a call into this guy to clarify his salary. I believe he is much more senior, but I want to get an exact number from him as well .. [REDACTED] thinking that when my Mr. Epstein referred to it as a Senior Accounting role that I took it too literal. Might make sense to look more of people with a financial officer related title that has partnership accounting exposure, just a thought .. Take a look at this candidate and let me know your initial thoughts,, In retrospect, I think it makes sense to look at other titles as a Senior Accountant type will be too junior, despite some similar functionality.
