Raymond Kurzweil is an American inventor and futurist and is Director of Engineering at Google. Ray has been described as "the restless genius" by the Wall Street Journal, and "the ultimate thinking machine" by Forbes. Inc. magazine ranked him #8 among entrepreneurs in the United States, and PBS included Ray as one of 16 "revolutionaries who made America," along with other inventors of the past two centuries.

His presentation at Ci2011 was about the acceleration of technology in the 21st century, and its impact on business, the economy and the future. It is an insightful speech which explores the rapid technology evolutions that humans are facing. With a clear outlook on the landscape of ever-advancing technologies, Ray talks of a future full of startling technological discoveries where machines will overtake humans.
