Do All Nations Have the Same Policy about Avoiding Civilian Casualties in War?

Israel is pilloried each time non-combatants die inadvertently when measures are taken to defend its citizens. The world does not seem to care that the enemy Israel is fighting uses its own people as human shields, which makes it impossible to attack the terrorists targeting Israeli civilians without the possibility of injuring the innocent.

The world also does not give Israel credit for taking unprecedented wartime steps to to warn civilians. Meanwhile, the same countries that condemn Israel hypocritically use whatever measures are necessary to kill their enemies and rarely apologize for the collateral damage they cause.

Myths and Facts about American Campuses #2: Campuses Are More Hostile to Israel than Ever Before

Like the myth of a golden age for Jews under Muslim rule in Spain, many Jews think nostalgically about campus life before the "occupation" and the torrent of biased media coverage when Israel was viewed as David rather than Goliath and universities were not battlegrounds between partisans.

On some campuses, that may have been true, but, as early as 1955, Eleanor Roosevelt observed that "Arab propaganda on American college campuses across the country is beyond the wildest imagination."
