Andrea is now asking me to come to Vienna on September 2nd (previously we agreed that I would come during the last week of August to help with the preparation and organization). they sent me the agenda and the conference info (in the attachment) and said everything has been done by them already - I asked previously when we spoke with her if I could do anything to help/ organize and she said that I should come end of August to help...

All the best, Svetlana

Hi Svetlana,

Like Johanna wrote, I am organizing the Pandemics Conference and have attached the current agenda to this e-mail. Although it is still subject to change it gives you an idea on how the conference is shaped. For some more background info you can have a look at the Concept note which I also attached.

Looking forward to meet you and to have some support during the conference in September.

In the meanwhile, if you have questions, don't hesitate to contact me!

Sunny greetings from Vienna,

Manon Roeleveld

Dear Svetlana,

Just tried to reach you on your mobile phone but unfortunately was not able to get a hold of you. Andrea told me that you will be coming to Vienna and support us with the big conference on PANDEMICS in Geneva on September 12th.

As discussed with Andrea, we suggest that you arrive on September 2nd (Wednesday) in Vienna and leave from Geneva back to New York on September 13th. I will be happy to book the flight for you from Vienna to Geneva (September 10), so we can all be on the same flight, but I would kindly ask you to make the arrangements for your flight NY – Vienna and Geneva – NY.

For accommodation I recommend the Hotel RADISSON BLU at Herrengasse: <http://www.radissonblu.com/stylehotel-vienna>

It is right next to the IPI office.

Manon (copied on this e-mail) is organizing the seminar in Geneva right now and will send you an updated agenda. We have also made hotel reservations for all participants at the Intercontinental in Geneva.

Please feel free to contact me anytime if you have any questions.

Looking forward to hearing back from you.

All the Best,
Johanna
