beware of excuses . from these agencies . I know three new york girls working in miami on weekend s , for good money, . so i am suspicious of stories that lack real money at the end of day for you. so far I only hear words. from these people and see little. . you must be careful to want to believe so much that you ignore what you see.

You are right. Thank you for taking your time writing me these messages and giving advice. It means a lot. I am gonna give Wilhelmina until end of Miami. Then after graduation if no work for me in New York I will go to Miami. Also my agency "Stockholmsgruppen" are talking about different places during summer where I can go for work. They are proposing me for clients and agencies all over now aswell. Studying is kinda holding me back because in the end of the day here in NYC I always have to study since a year back now. When studying is over focus will be modeling. Right now I just gotta graduate and do as much as I can besides my studying. Which is now wait for second VISA to be done. I think it will all work out in the end I refuse to fail. And very happy I have you by my side of course. Means everything.

Was thinking about it

The big deal in evolution was when we moved from sessile plants to moveable stuff --- all the sudden we had roots and an extended nervous system that needed to be connected --- that's why there is a vagus nerve.

But mostly the enteric nervous system basically allowed us to extend our reach to Find nutrients and mate

Everything that happens to our bodies is a response to a stressor

In the outside we get scars

On the inside we get random protein aggregations

Plants have salt water temperature stressors and we oddly enough do too

Plus how we respond to pathogens is similar
