Had an idea to propose to BG that might link and improve all the things he's trying to address as it relates to Alzheimer.

Might be a way to bring pieces together in a different and potentially impactful way.

We can talk Thursday or Friday but for now my plan is to do endovascular neurosurgery and take over the clinical service sometime next year and just be a clinician. Can apply for grants or try to build stuff from the UW,
Or just be a practitioner.

Seems I can't really depend on others to build a career and maybe sticking to my core strengths is just fine. Being a doc isn't gonna change the universe or make a billion jillion dollars but it is legit and something I can control and do ...

Hello, I was dealing with the aftermath of burning my food and cleaning up. I cannot find all The pictures I want to show you so I requested directly from the photographers to send to me again. Yes I was actually looking at doctors after we spoke and I was reading reviews some

Are quiet impressive. Because I have had my breasts done I cannot take them out completely but the alternative is to go down 2 sizes and instead of being round implants they can do a Brazilian tear drop which is so natural.

My dear, I wanted to meet you because I wanted to talk to you in person for you, not for me. It would have been nice, if you responded to my messages out of common courtesy. Please do not confuse me with your former acquaintances who betrayed you. I had your back even if you were not aware of it, because you deserved it. I value loyalty, but only if one truly deserves it. I could not contact you before because I did not have Kelly's and your contact info before New Year's. Way back when I got away because you broke my heart by a single sentence. Now, you broke my heart by ignoring my best intentions. But I just want you to know that I have been a loyal friend, even if you are not aware of it, because you deserve it. I am wishing all the best to you.
