Hello! I think that you are sleeping, but I just put my message here. I want to share with you my surprising, in the morning I have done 4 hours toefl sample practice test. I make it as a real. And I sure that my writing section can be much more better, because today I don't know why but I checked time for writing bad, and I didn't finish the first essay clear. But on my last real test I have done it better than now. Therefore i understood that I need more concentrate on time, and don't feel relax about this option. It got 17 against the last 20. But at the same time I got a 75 scores. I cannot believe. I know that it is not enough, but I had preparing during the law exams and had just one whole month for hard preparation and at the same time I am trying to find a new flat, what is going to be soo difficult. I do afraid to disappoint you. So, my listening has become pretty better, it is 18, the last time was shameful 9, and I really start to hear and understand quite everything, but sure I need more work on this. It is more difficult part for me, my brain sometimes thinks a lot about something crazy not about topic, but I quite control them now. About reading I think that I can be better, today is 18 against the last 15. But it is my favorite part of this exam, therefore I think that I can done it better, because quite the whole my free time I am with a pleasure read and solve the books, which you bought me for preparing in palm beach. Thank you again. And the speaking is 22, against last 20, however I feel still nervous because it has limit of time, and I still love to speak my thought wider than I can afford on the restrict of time in toefl, or in a different situation, which you observe and take part sorry for this. Any way I am working on this. Actually, I feel a plenty of forces right and wish be better and better, and a profound gratitude to you, because you motivate and encourage me a lot, and I feel responsibility to you, to not disappoint you because I enormous respect you and you are very important person in my life and I don't want to give you opportunity be dissatisfied with me. Sorry, for this fountain of emotions. But I'm happy that I have good progress, because sometimes i am upset that it seems no progressive way, moreover it is often than I think that I m a little bit better. And i always afraid to give you a bad news. So, I wrote you all sorry for the big size. If is too big, please say me, and further I will make it shorten have a pretty wonderful day

You know he struggles w women in real roles and that he doesn't think they are as useful as men in most things

Might be right

I see him again Wednesday then not for a month.

But my idea is maybe if I can come up with a solid pitch I can just ask larry and bill together and say I want to leave bgc3 a little early to pursue a really good idea and I have a few people backing me wondering if they would back too and give me the same treatment they have Tony Pan ... (modern electron ... small company) ... which is basically just office space and some small amount of money

Or I could go pitch to the third rock guys in Boston and see what they say. They can build a company around my ideas and build to full potential - with me in charge or with my ideas in the background. They are very good.

Either way a solid pitch and a few end points that make sense clinically
