

POMPEII

Name: Julian de Jongh

Date: March 31, 2009

POMPEII is a ruined and partially buried Roman city near Naples Italy.
It is near the water

Mount Vesuvius

(in Italian - Monte Vesuvio)

Is a volcano east of Naples, Italy. It is the only volcano on the European mainland to have erupted within the last hundred years. It is not currently active. The two other volcanoes in Italy (Etna and Stromboli) are on islands.

Close-up of the Volcano

This is 1 of 7 entrances to the city, This is the Sea entrance because it faces the Sea.

The Dock. Before the eruption the shore came up to Pompeii and now it's two and a half miles away.

Walls of Pompeii are about 5 feet thick.

Imag

ON

The Public Bathes

This is Pompeii Local market where residents could buy food such as Fruit, Fish & Bread.

“Mc Donalds”

This is the Ancient Place where the people of Pompeii got fast food.

Italy is known for its fountains because of many Aqueduct. Pompeii has many fountains as well; This is one of several I saw.

The Forum

This is where all the Politicians would work and make speeches.

The Victims of Mount Vesuvius Eruption in Pompeii

The plaster casts show the people of Pompeii at the moment of death.

The main street of Pompeii. All main streets in the Roman Empire run East to West and all side streets run North to South.

Ancient Cross Walk

Bibliography

Bonaventura, Maria Antoinetta. Pompeii Reconstructed. Italy: Archeolibri S.R.I., 2007

Tanaka, Shelley. The Buried City of Pompeii. New York: Madison Press Books, 1997

Photos provided by:

de Jongh, Cecile

de Jongh, Julian