JANE DOE ■,

Case No. 19 Civ. 10653

Plaintiff,

COMPLAINT AND JURY DEMAND

DARREN K. INDYKE and RICHARD D. KAHN, as EXECUTORS OF THE ESTATE OF JEFFREY E.
EPSTEIN,

Defendants.

Plaintiff Jane Doe ■¹, by and through her attorneys, Cuti Hecker Wang LLP and Allred, Maroko, & Goldberg, for her Complaint alleges as follows:

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. When Plaintiff Jane Doe ■ was fifteen years old, Jeffrey Epstein preyed upon her, trafficked her, and sexually abused her.

2. Jane Doe 15 grew up in a poor household in the Midwest. In early ■, she traveled to New York City on a trip with her high school drama group. Jane Doe ■ got permission to spend a day with her sister, who lived in New York and already knew Epstein.

3. During that trip, Jane Doe ■ was invited to visit Epstein’s townhouse in Manhattan. Epstein’s secretary began grooming Jane Doe ■ to be used as Epstein’s sexual object – she took photos of Jane Doe ■, gave her an iPod, and told Jane Doe ■ that Epstein really wanted to meet her.

4. Epstein’s secretary reached out to Jane Doe ■ shortly thereafter. She told

CONFIDENTIAL

Jane Doe ■ that Epstein was excited by the photos and very interested in Jane Doe ■, and that Epstein was interested in helping girls who, like Jane Doe ■, were in difficult circumstances. Epstein's secretary asked Jane Doe ■ to travel to Epstein's ranch in New Mexico. This seemed like a thrilling opportunity for Jane Doe ■, and she believed that Epstein genuinely wanted to help her.

5. During the trip, Epstein conveyed to Jane Doe ■ how powerful he was and how helpful he could be in assisting Jane Doe ■ with her future goals, such as paying for college.

6. Using this overwhelming power he had over Jane Doe ■, Epstein subjected her to a vicious, prolonged sexual assault.

7. This sexual assault has caused Jane Doe ■ immense harm. She tried to ignore and forget what had happened, but it was impossible. She felt ashamed, humiliated, scared, and frightened. She began to hurt herself through substance abuse. She later realized that, although she did not realize it at the time, Epstein's predatory behavior left her feeling that she had no value, that a powerful man could do anything he wanted to her.

8. Jane Doe ■ continues to feel the vast harmful effects of Epstein's behavior. She brings this action seeking, at last, some remedy for the egregious abuse that Epstein inflicted when she was a child.

PARTIES

9. Plaintiff Jane Doe ■ is an individual who resides in California.

10. Defendants Darren K. Indyke and Richard D. Kahn are the Executors of the Estate of Jeffrey E. Epstein (the "Estate"). As Executors of the Estate, Defendants are liable for the acts and omissions of Epstein and his agents. For purposes of 28 U.S.C. § 1332, Defendants are deemed to be citizens of the United States Virgin Islands, where Epstein was domiciled at the time of his death.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

11. This Court has subject-matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332 because the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000 and is between citizens of different states.

12. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2) because a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claim occurred in this District.

13. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendants. As Executors of the Estate, Defendants are subject to personal jurisdiction in this Court because Epstein was subject to personal jurisdiction at the time of his death.

14. This Court had both specific and general personal jurisdiction over Epstein at the time of his death.

15. Epstein and his agents initially preyed upon Jane Doe ■ in New York, where they began grooming her to be trafficked so he could sexually abuse her.

16. Epstein resided in New York State a substantial portion of the time during the time period at issue in this lawsuit, and through the time of his death.

17. Epstein resided in the Metropolitan Correctional Center in New York County at the time of his death.

18. Epstein conducted substantial business operations in New York.

19. Epstein owned and/or controlled numerous companies with principal places of business in New York.

20. Epstein owned substantial real property assets in New York, including the townhouse located at 9 East 71st Street in Manhattan, which is valued at $55 million or more.

21. New York was the epicenter of Epstein's criminal sex-trafficking enterprise. For years, Epstein and his agents took actions in New York in order to arrange for minor girls to be trafficked to his homes throughout the country in order to perform sexual acts for him. Epstein's trafficking and abuse of Jane Doe ■ was part of that New York-based criminal enterprise.

22. From his Manhattan townhouse, Epstein directed a vast network of agents in recruiting minor girls to be brought to him for his sexual use.

23. Epstein sexually abused many minor girls in his Manhattan townhouse.

24. On many occasions, Epstein and his agents made phone calls from New York to schedule appointments for minor girls to come to Epstein's residences outside of New York in order to perform commercial sexual acts for Epstein.

25. Upon information and belief, after Jane Doe ■ went to Epstein's townhouse and met with his agents in New York, Epstein and/or his agents took additional actions in New York specifically to facilitate the trafficking of Jane Doe ■ to New Mexico to perform sexual acts for Epstein.

26. Upon information and belief, Epstein's secretary was present in New York at the time that she – acting as Epstein's agent – arranged for Jane Doe ■ to travel to Epstein's ranch in order for Epstein to sexually abuse her.

JURY DEMAND

27. Plaintiff hereby demands a trial by jury on all of her claims in this action.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

28. When Plaintiff Jane Doe ■ was fifteen years old, Jeffrey Epstein preyed upon her and sexually abused her.

29. Jane Doe ■ had grown up poor. Her parents divorced when she was young, and her mother had moved from place to place numerous times during Jane Doe ■'s childhood. When she first met Epstein, she was living in a very small town in the Midwest.

30. In approximately January ■■■, Jane Doe ■ went on a trip to New York City with her high school drama group. Jane Doe ■'s sister, who was approximately eighteen at the time, was living in New York with a family friend and working as a model. Her sister knew Epstein, but like other victims of Epstein did not and could not speak about his abuse.

31. Because Jane Doe ■'s sister lived in New York, Jane Doe ■ was given a special day pass by the chaperones of her school trip to spend a day with her sister during the trip.

32. Jane Doe ■'s sister invited her to come to Epstein's townhouse at 9 East 71st Street in Manhattan. When Jane Doe ■ got to the townhouse, she met Epstein's secretary, a woman approximately in her mid-twenties with light-brown hair.

33. Epstein's secretary acted on his behalf in cultivating and enticing Jane Doe ■ as she spent time with Jane Doe ■ that day.

34. On Epstein's behalf, Epstein's secretary gave Jane Doe ■ a tour of the townhouse. She told Jane Doe ■ that Epstein really liked her sister and that he really wanted to meet Jane Doe ■.

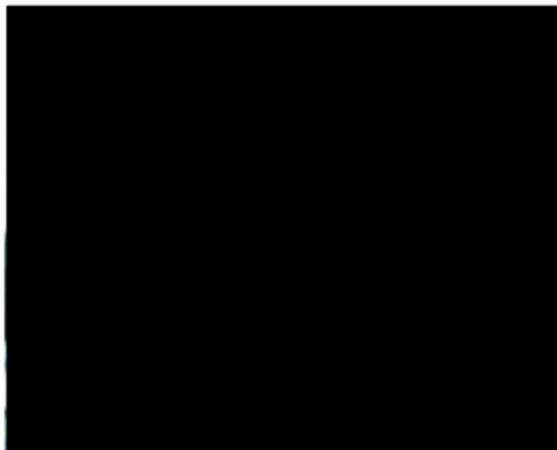

35. On Epstein's behalf, Epstein's secretary took photos of Jane Doe ■ and asked her for more photos of her and her sister. Before Jane Doe ■ left, the secretary asked for Jane Doe ■'s contact information, and gave her an iPod. The secretary said she would send Jane Doe ■'s photos and contact information to Epstein.

36. Approximately two weeks later, Epstein's secretary emailed Jane Doe ■. She said that Epstein was excited by the photos and that he was very interested in Jane Doe ■.

The secretary conveyed to Jane Doe ■ that Epstein was interested in helping girls who were in difficult circumstances and needed assistance.

37. Epstein's secretary in New York invited Jane Doe ■ and her sister to come to Las Vegas and attend a magic show, then fly to Epstein's ranch in New Mexico. This seemed like a thrilling opportunity, and Jane Doe ■ convinced her mother to let her go. Epstein's secretary then sent Jane Doe ■ the ticket information.

38. The following is a true and correct photograph of Jane Doe ■ when she was fifteen years old:

39. In approximately late January 2004, when Jane Doe ■ was still fifteen, she and her sister flew to Las Vegas. Epstein and/or his agents had arranged for the girls to go backstage and meet the performer, along with several other young girls whom Epstein had arranged to be there. Epstein was present for at least some portion of that show, although Jane Doe ■ had little or no interaction with him.

40. At that point, Jane Doe ■ had the impression that Epstein had been kind to her sister and provided assistance to her, such as a place to stay.

41. Afterwards, Jane Doe ■ and her sister were brought to an airport to board Epstein's private plane to take them to New Mexico. They boarded the plane, along with Epstein and several other young girls.

42. For a girl from the Midwest, all of this was like a dream come true – to be flown around in private jets, to meet a world-famous performer backstage, and to be among other beautiful girls, almost all of whom were much older than her. She felt like she was being treated special, and like a grown up.

43. At that point, Jane Doe ■ met Epstein for the first time. Epstein gave Jane Doe ■ a tour of the plane. The first thing he showed her was the bedroom.

44. Epstein instructed Jane Doe ■ to get on the floor of the bedroom and feel it. Epstein explained that there was a Tempur-pedic mattress covering the entire floor of the plane's bedroom. Jane Doe ■, who was only fifteen, recalls thinking that she was supposed to understand what this man was talking about, but being confused and laughing nervously. She had never heard some of the words he used, such as the name of the mattress.

45. Epstein explained to Jane Doe ■ that, when he slept on the bed, he liked to have women sleep at his feet. Jane Doe ■ again felt enormously confused, and did not understand what Epstein was saying or why he was telling her this. Epstein's description of the women sleeping around him on the floor made her immediately think of slaves.

46. Epstein made clear to Jane Doe ■ how powerful he was. He made a point of mentioning that he was close with Bill Clinton.

47. At one point, Epstein asked Jane Doe ■ how old she was, and she told him she was fifteen.

48. Jane Doe ■ found her interactions with Epstein on the plane strange. But she recognized one of the other girls on the plane as a model who had been on a magazine cover that month. Jane Doe ■ remembers finding that reassuring, and thinking, “If she’s here, it must be ok.”

49. When they arrived in New Mexico, Jane Doe ■ was driven to Epstein’s ranch. She and her sister stayed in a small house detached from the main house. A number of other girls were staying at the ranch as well.

50. From the start, Jane Doe ■ was told that she and the other girls could do whatever they wanted at the ranch, whenever they wanted. It was like a park. She was encouraged to ride horses and ATVs and to use the pool and hot tub. One of Epstein’s agents, a woman with red hair, told Jane Doe ■ that the water jets in the hot tub were positioned so that many girls could use them to masturbate at the same time.

51. At one point during the stay, Jane Doe ■ was in the swimming pool, and Epstein walked up. Epstein ordered her to give him a hug. Because she had not packed a swimsuit, she was wearing her underwear to swim. Epstein commented on her underwear, saying, in substance, that they needed to get her new underwear because it was not nice enough.

52. Shortly thereafter, the redhaired woman told Jane Doe ■ that Epstein really liked her. The woman asked Jane Doe ■ questions about her sexual experience. This made Jane Doe ■ deeply embarrassed, and she answered honestly about her complete lack of sexual experience.

53. The next day, Jane Doe ■ was summoned to the main house, and the redhaired woman reported that she would be giving Jane Doe ■ a massage. The woman ordered Jane Doe ■ to strip down and lie on a table. Jane Doe ■ noticed that there were cameras in the ceiling of the room, and she felt deeply uncomfortable. She was alone, far from home, and in an environment where everything and everyone told her she was supposed to do as they told her, and that this was normal.

54. Without Jane Doe ■'s consent, the woman proceeded to use her tongue to "massage" Jane Doe ■, focusing primarily on Jane Doe ■'s vagina and anus. Jane Doe ■ continued to feel great discomfort. After subjecting Jane Doe ■ to this unwanted contact for what felt like a substantial amount of time, the redhaired woman stopped, and apologetically told Jane Doe ■ that she could tell Jane Doe ■ had not enjoyed the contact.

55. The redhaired woman – Epstein's agent – then told Jane Doe ■ that Epstein really wanted to give Jane Doe ■ an orgasm.

56. Approximately the next day, Jane Doe ■ was summoned to the main house at the ranch and told that Epstein wanted to meet with her.

57. Jane Doe ■ was taken to an upstairs bedroom. Epstein was lying on the bed, on his back, wearing only a bathrobe.

58. Epstein ordered Jane Doe ■ to stand next to the bed and give him a massage. As she started to do so, Epstein opened the bathrobe so that his penis was visible.

59. Jane Doe ■ sensed that Epstein expected her to do something sexual to him, but she did not know what it was. Epstein seemed to get frustrated as a result.

60. Epstein then said, in substance, "We're going to try something different." Without warning, he grabbed Jane Doe ■ by her shoulders and laid her down on the floor.

61. Epstein got out a large vibrator and pressed it against Jane Doe ■'s genitals in an aggressive manner. Jane Doe ■ found it very painful, and she did not know what she was supposed to do.

62. Epstein continued to assault Jane Doe ■ with the vibrator for what felt like an eternity, and she continued to find it very painful. Eventually, Jane Doe ■ realized that Epstein expected her to have a visible reaction, and she pretended to have an orgasm. This appeared to satisfy Epstein, and he finally stopped molesting her.

63. Epstein then walked Jane Doe ■ over to the window of the bedroom. He told her how amazing a first orgasm is, and he pointed out to the desert and told her that he wanted to show her how beautiful the world is. Epstein told Jane Doe ■ that they would meet the next day to talk about her education and how he could assist her.

64. After Epstein's vicious, prolonged assault, Jane Doe ■ felt completely powerless and lost. She wanted to tell her sister what he had done to her, but felt too scared and disempowered to do so.

65. Jane Doe ■ remembers taking an ATV out that night and driving it into a tree, and realizing that she could die out there and no one would care. She felt both abandoned and also completely reliant on Epstein.

66. The next day, Epstein summoned Jane Doe ■ to meet with him again. He presented her with a box, inside of which was a pair of new underwear. Jane Doe ■ put them on, and Epstein commented that she looked really good. Epstein proceeded to take photographs of Jane Doe ■ wearing the underwear.

67. During that encounter, Jane Doe ■ felt terrified and had difficulty breathing. Epstein noticed this, and led her through breathing exercises.

68. At the end of that meeting, Epstein asked Jane Doe ■ about her future goals, and she explained that she wants to study biochemistry at a specific college. Epstein conveyed to Jane Doe ■ that he wanted to help her achieve that goal, and he presented her with a check for $5,000 to give to the college. He also gave her several hundred dollars in cash.

69. Soon afterwards, Jane Doe ■ left Epstein's ranch, after being there for three or four days.

70. Jane Doe ■ was later invited to come to Epstein's private island. But she declined, finding excuses to avoid seeing Epstein. She never saw him again.

71. Jane Doe ■ tried to ignore and forget what happened, but it was impossible. She did not recognize it then, but she had been told and taught that she had no value, that a powerful man could do anything he wanted to her. She felt ashamed, humiliated, scared, and frightened, but above all, worthless. She began to hurt herself with alcohol and drugs.

72. Jane Doe ■'s common-law claims are timely under whichever state's law is determined to apply.

73. Jane Doe ■ first disclosed her abuse to a licensed medical or mental health care provider in the context of receiving health care from the provider in 2019.

74. Prior to that, Jane Doe ■ did not know, and did not have any reason to know, the extent of the injuries that Epstein's abuse had caused her, or the connection between Epstein's abuse and the emotional and psychological injuries she had experienced.

75. Jane Doe ■ is still just beginning to process and understand the full extent of the injuries that Epstein's abuse had caused her and the connection between Epstein's abuse and the emotional and psychological injuries she had experienced.

76. This action is timely under New York law because it falls within New York CPLR 214-g and is brought during the one-year time period set forth in that section. The claims brought herein allege intentional and negligent acts and/or omissions for physical, psychological, and other injury suffered as a result of conduct that would constitute sexual offenses as defined in Article 130 of the New York Penal Law, and such acts and/or omissions were committed against Jane Doe ■ when she was less than eighteen years of age.

77. Epstein's abuse of Jane Doe ■ constitutes "childhood sexual abuse" within the meaning of New Mexico Stat. § 37-1-30.

78. A criminal action against Epstein concerning the same sex trafficking enterprise from which Jane Doe ■'s claims arose terminated on August 29, 2019.
