Details:

On 07/18/2019, at 8:14 a.m. Eastern Time, John Houshmand, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED], called the FBI National Threat Operations Center (NTOC) to report information pertaining to the Epstein case.

Houshmand provided the following information:

Houshmand was a contractor in NYC. During his time as a contractor, Houshmand did a project for Jeff Epstein; the project took approximately 4-5 months. Houshmand is unsure what year the project took place, but believes it may have been in 2006 (according to emails he has).
Houshmand's primary contact for the project was Doug, last name unknown.
Doug jokingly told Houshmand that he and several other staff members were instructed to use the security camera in front of the house to look up and down the street. Doug stated, if they saw any attractive, young women, they were to go out on the street and approach them with the offer of a modeling job. Additionally, Epstein kept a photo gallery in his exercise room that contained black and white head shots of the various girls.
