Details:

On 07/12/2019, at 1:44 p.m. Eastern Time, Ron Moon, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED], called the FBI National Threat Operations Center
(NTOC) Unit, to report information related to the Jeffery Epstein case.

Moon provided the following information:

In the late autumn of 2005, Moon worked as a contractor at the Elkins Randolph County Airport, a "back water" airport with no tower in Randolph County, WV.

Approximately twice a month, a private jet, Learjet 35 or Learjet 32, would land and refuel at the airport. The workers called the flight the "Fantasy Island Flight." The flight usually came from Timberline Four Seasons Resort and Blackwater Outdoor Recreation Facility and would land for anywhere from 15 minutes to an hour and a half.

The stewardesses were dressed in short pink shorts, see-through shirts, and "black undies." The girls wore United Airlines badges. However, Moon knew the girls could not be actual stewardess, because they had to have Moon help them open the airplane's door. The girls looked to be 16 years old. There were always two girls on every flight, and they were always different.

The young girls would hang out with the airport workers and "run around" the hanger. The girls told Moon that they were on their way to Epstein's island. Moon stated, "Sixteen year old girls are very talkative when they are sitting around having the time of their life." The girls acted like "giggly teenagers" and Moon found them to be "very entertaining." Moon stated, "These were pretty high times for them," and "no one seemed like they were captive." The girls would sometimes travel with Bill Clinton and other Congressmen. These men always tipped Moon and the other employees very well. Moon believes he may still have pictures of these women in his possession.

Moon does not know why Epstein "is all over the news." Moon was curious why the FBI was "picking on Epstein." Moon believes someone is "going after" Epstein with these allegations.
