

From: [REDACTED] <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Tuesday, October 12, 2021 3:19 PM
To: [REDACTED] (USANYS) <[REDACTED]>
Subject: [EXTERNAL] Follow up to voicemail-[REDACTED]

Hello [REDACTED],

I found your contact information on the SDNY website and am reaching out regarding the Ghislaine Maxwell indictment. Earlier this afternoon I left you a voicemail in a general mailbox attached to [REDACTED]. I thought I'd also follow up via email.

I met Ghislaine Maxwell and Jeffrey Epstein in 1994, [REDACTED] [REDACTED]. At the time, I was working at [REDACTED] [REDACTED]. Maxwell [REDACTED] [REDACTED] introduced me to Epstein. I was "involved" with them for a period of a few years. The things that happened to me were unspeakable. Quite literally they altered the course of my entire life. It was a secret I had been trying to keep for two and a half decades when it became news that Epstein had been arrested in 2019. My experience in reaching out and trying to be heard has been extraordinarily invalidating. I feel like because I was not technically a minor, and because my experience in the mid 90s is now outside the statute of limitations, what they did to me doesn't matter to anyone but me. I'm not a big enough headline.

In looking for some closure, I came across your name as a victim/witness coordinator. I'm wondering if we could have a conversation to discuss resources that might be available to me and Maxwell's scheduled trial in November.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I hope to hear from your office soon.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]